

protects your ears

FOR ALL
WATER SPORT lovers.

The Inner Aural Rescue System (IARS) is a customized ear protection for water sports enthusiasts.

The IARS are produced in Germany and developed to prevent ear canal exostosis (surfer's ear) and other ear injuries while still allowing you to hear.

CORRECT WEARING & INSERTING IARS

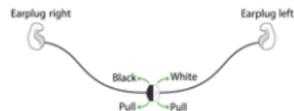

Your personalized IARS are marked with an R for your right ear and an L for the left. Please ensure that the product is always inserted into the correct ear.

Grasp your IARS between thumb and forefinger. Place the product's ear canal plug into your ear canal with a slight turn to the front. In some cases, insertion is made easier by pulling gently on the earlobe. Make sure your IARS fits into the top crease of your ear.

IARS can be safely worn with the leash. If necessary, the leash can also be removed.

STORAGE & CLEANING

Always store your IARS in the supplied case and clean them regularly. We recommend water and a mild soap for cleaning; dry thoroughly after use and store in a dry location.

The recommended temperature range for transport and storage is between 0-35°C. Do not store above 55°C.

Check the product regularly for damage and functionality. Avoid deliberately overstretching the silicone material.

PROTECTION

Keeps out water, wind, debris and pollutants. The IARS is produced from high-quality, hypoallergenic materials using precision manufacturing in our German production facility to deliver optimal protection for all water sport lovers.

PERFORMANCE

The integrated, high-quality membrane allows sound in so you can clearly hear warning signals and easily communicate with your friends.

Furthermore the IARS won't impact your balance or pressure equalization. Our revolutionary neck cord ensures you can use the IARS safely and makes it almost impossible to lose, even when you wipeout.

PERSONALIZED

We know all ears are different and comfort is critical for those long sessions in or on the water. That is why we guarantee a perfect fit for your ears with the high-quality IARS to deliver you maximum performance, safety and comfort.
